

THIS YEAR'S PROGRAMME INCLUDES

- Spud and Yam in the Hub / Korky Paul
- Alice Caroline - Little Lady Liberty
- Marcus Alexander / Ben Norris
- Shhh! A Story about Stories...
- Susan Fletcher - A Little in Love
- Andy Lane - Young Sherlock series
- Tea in Wonderland party, an interactive family event marking the 150th anniversary of the Lewis Carroll classic, Alice in Wonderland.

WRITESTUFF

Following the success of the WriteStuff competition and website as part of the 2014 Festival, details of the 2015 competition will be released on 10 May 2015.

The WriteStuff is a 300-word short story writing challenge for students in age categories covering Key Stages 2, 3 and 4. Winning entrants will see their work illustrated by Betley Whitehorne and published on the WriteStuff website. Prizes will also be awarded.

Why not get inspired and take a look at last year's entries?
Previous winning stories can be found on the website www.writestuff.gg...

look out for links on Facebook and Twitter!

Partner:

Partner:

Partner:

GUERNSEY LITERARY FESTIVAL

16 - 20 SEPT 2015

EDUCATIONAL AND CHILDREN'S PROGRAMME

EVENTS

GRAPHIC NOVEL EXHIBITION CLIFTON ROOM GUILLE-ALLES LIBRARY

A 10-day exhibition from Friday 11 September 2015, showing great examples of graphic novel design with wild and whacky work from some of the most famous graphic novelists around. Open during library hours.

SPUD AND YAM INSET WORKSHOP

Spud and Yam, aka Kate Corkery and Winston Nzinga, are a unique Irish/Jamaican duo of storytellers/musicians whose material is both educational and entertaining. Their outstanding work in Early Years has built them a loyal following of educators and parents across the UK.

Guernsey Literary Festival is offering a one-day inset training opportunity where storytelling and music will be explored in inspirational and original ways for teachers, nursery workers, parents, playgroup leaders etc.

*Wednesday 16 September full-day workshop.
Max 30 participants.*

BOOK BENCH PROJECT

Look out for the Book Bench visiting schools! This beautiful sculptured bench will be decorated by two student artists and Charlie Buchanan, inspired by the story of Ebenezer Le Page.

KS2 SCHOOL EVENT: SPUD AND YAM

After huge success with children and teachers in 2014, Spud and Yam return to entertain KS2. They are offering a one-hour session for up to 120 KS2 pupils.

*Two sessions available to book:
Thursday 17 September AM and PM.*

KS1 SCHOOL EVENT: KORKY PAUL

Illustrator and storyteller Korky Paul, best known for Winnie the Witch, will be entertaining KS1 pupils with his interactive and fun-filled 'Read and Draw with Korky Paul' sessions.

*Four sessions available to book:
Friday 18 September AM (two sessions) and PM (two sessions).*

KEY STAGE 3 EVENTS: MARCUS ALEXANDER

Marcus is a fresh and exciting author who brings the art of literacy and the importance of imagination to students in a manner that inspires his young audiences. With a background in adrenaline sports he can overcome students' reliance on smart screens and games consoles and return them to the path of creativity.

*Two school sessions available to book for Year 7:
Friday 18 September AM and PM.*

BEN NORRIS

UK All-Star Poetry Slam Champion Ben Norris takes students on a rollercoaster ride through the world of performance poetry, breaking verse free from its too often dusty shackles.

Three school performances available for Year 9, each to be followed by a short session on writing/performing with Ben for a small group of pupils pre-selected on merit by a member of school staff.

*Three sessions available to book:
Thursday 17 Sept AM and PM, Friday 18 Sept AM.*

KS4 EVENTS: OGGY BOYTCHEV

A British journalist and independent producer with more than 20 years' experience at the BBC in London. Until recently producer for BBC World Affairs Editor, John Simpson. Born in Bulgaria, he has worked in more than 40 countries and in the world's main war zones. Ogy will be addressing sixth formers and offering them the opportunity to ask questions.

One session. Friday 18 September: AM

JO BAKER

Based on Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice, Longbourn by Jo Baker offers a fascinating insight into life in Georgian society. Jo will be offering a writing workshop to English students.

One session. Friday 18 September: PM

To book please contact Jane Caseby before May 22nd at: jcaseby@education.gov.gg
For further information, contact Melanie Walton: Education@guernseyliteraryfestival.com www.guernseyliteraryfestival.com